

acme-demo — security & access hygiene

Generated 25 Aug 2026, 12:00 UTC · Activity window: last 180 days · 5 repositories scanned, 1 skipped · Run #1

The short version

- 4 critical or high severity vulnerabilities are still open across 3 repositories. The oldest has been open for 347 days.
- 10 access grants look stale — 2 of them at admin level. These are suggestions for human review; nothing has been changed.
- 13 people were assessed across 5 repositories. 10 access grants were deliberately held back from the suggestions — org owners, bots, allowlisted accounts, and repositories too new or too small to judge fairly. All of them are listed in section 4.

1 Security advisories

Every Dependabot alert across the organization, grouped by how serious it is and whether anyone has dealt with it. Open means still exploitable today.

Open alerts by severity

SEVERITY	OPEN	FIXED	DISMISSED
Critical	2	0	0
High	2	1	0
Medium	3	0	0
Low	1	0	1

Status of all alerts

10 alerts total. Dismissed alerts were closed by a person or a rule without a fix — worth spot-checking.

Most affected repositories

Oldest unresolved alerts

Sorted by how long they have been open. These are the ones that have been ignored the longest.

2 Who has access, and what they did with it

One row per person per repository. Score combines commits, reviews and pull requests over the last 180 days, with older work counting for less. A score below 5.0 triggers a review suggestion. Repositories are ordered by how many suggestions they produced. Click any repository to expand it.

3 Suggested access removals

Ranked by risk = how much power the grant carries, divided by how much the person is using it. A dormant admin ranks above a dormant reader. Nothing here has been changed — this tool never revokes access. Every row is a recommendation for a human to confirm.

4 Who was excluded, and why

These people and repositories were deliberately kept out of the suggestions above. This panel exists so the list you just read can be trusted: if you cannot see who was skipped, you have no way to know whether the tool is hiding something.

Unattributed commits (22)

Commits whose author email is not linked to any GitHub account. They are counted and reported but never assigned to a person, because guessing would credit — or fail to credit — the wrong someone.

Scoring: $\text{activity} = 3.0 \cdot \ln(1 + \text{commits}) + 2.5 \cdot \ln(1 + \text{reviews}) + 2.0 \cdot \ln(1 + \text{PRs merged}) + 1.0 \cdot \ln(1 + \text{PRs opened})$, then halved for every 180 days since the person's last activity. $\text{risk} = \text{permission weight} \div (1 + \text{score})$, where admin=3, maintain=2, write=1.5, triage/read=0.5. Flagged below 5.0.

Run #1 · started 2026-08-28T07:40:52+00:00 · database keyed on GitHub IDs, so re-running updates this report in place rather than duplicating it. Access removal is always a suggestion, never an automatic action.
